First Community Chest Campaign Under Way Now

Fayette County's first Community Chest drive is underway today.

Near 200 workers at the pre-campaign banquet Monday night listened to one of the most dynamic speakers ever to come here.

Perle L. Whitehead, regional Boy Scout executive from Cincinnati, drew from a long experience of service to others in an inspirational speech to campaign workers in the American Legion Hall.

He pointed to the place of the Chest in the community, as supplementary to the home, the church and the school.

Whitehead told of the invaluable benefits derived by a community from the Community Chest agencies.

He pointed up his advice on conducting the campaign with colorful and apt analogies.

In stressing to those present the need for going out after contributions, he said: "I worked on a farm long enough to know that you don't sit on a stool and wait for a cow to back up to you."

Listeners Attentive

The guest speaker's rapidfire talk and sparkling humor kept his listeners in good spirits while he drove home vital points, like the following:

He told of being shown through a friend's house and noticing, in the attic, a large crack in the roof. His friend didn't say anything about the crack, but remarked that whoever built the house put in a bad foundation.

"The same thing applies to someone you see going wrong in your community. The fault is not in the crack you see, but in the foundation—the community you gave him to live in," said Whitehead.

He told the campaign workers of the service they are rendering to the community by working to make this drive a success.

"Your efforts in this drive will not be evident immediately. The results will be seen in the future."

"Remember, you have the best people in the world—right here—in this community. You have to go no farther."

Those who despair about the young people should remember that "the younger generation is like most previous generations in most respects."

Maynard Craig Mc's
Maynard Craig served as master of ceremonies for the occasion and introduced the guest speaker. Craig introduced the division chairmen: Miss Grace Huston, residential; Ray Maynard, business and industrial; Garrett Ramey, special gifts and Robert Brubaker and Perle Harlow, board president and executive-secretary, respectively.

Creamed chicken was the feature of the banquet, which was sponsored by Pennington Brothers Bakery. The campaign workers were given all they wanted of the bill of fare.

Twenty-four members of the American Legion Auxiliary helped prepare and serve the dinner. Mrs. Charlene Malone was kitchen chairman and Mrs. Eddie Jones, dining room chairman.

The 46 apple and pumpkin pies, served for dessert, were donated by the Auxiliary and were baked by a staff of 37 women, whose expert cuisine was shown in their work. Mrs. Ray West was in charge of this group. Auxiliary president is Mrs. Mike Helfrich, Jr.

Drive Underway

The red feather drive got underway early Tuesday, with encouraging early returns.

The distinction of being the first business firm with 100 percent in employee contributions goes to the Craig Brothers store. Mrs. Helen Graham is the employee chairman.

Money collected is turned in by the teams and workers to the Chest headquarters in the First Federal and Savings Loan Association at 134 East Court Street.

The headquarters will be open from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M. on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, 9 A. M. to noon on Thursday and 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. Saturday. The Chest phone number is 3-1061.

Military Funds Given Approval

Russian Distrust In Appropriations

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—(P)—Final Senate agreement to give the air force enough money for 58 combat groups shook loose a $15,585,863,498 appropriation for the armed services today.

In this and two other bills, the lawmakers mirrored their deep distrust of Communist Russia by planning to spend over $17,000,000,000 for military defenses at home and across the seas.

Senate and House committees reached agreement late yesterday to pour these billions into the greatest peacetime military spending program this nation ever has undertaken in a single year.

Included in the total is $1,314,010,000 for nations lined up with the United States in the cold war against Russia—the bulk of it to western Europe.

Also, $157,611,700 is earmarked for military construction in Alaska and on the Pacific Island of Okinawa.

A $50,000,000 item provides for the start of construction on a radar screen to guard the United States from enemy air attack.

Ready For White House

The votes which will send the money bills to the White House are expected to be a mere formality.

The size 58 air force calls for ten more groups than President Truman had requested.

A breakdown of the money total shows this distribution:

- U. S. defenses—
- (1) $4,380,444,298 for the army—all in cash.
- (2) $4,928,928,200 for the navy (Please turn to Page Two)

Meanderings

For the fourth time this year a pair of doves has built a nest and reared their young on the windowsill of the sun room on the north side of the Hook and Son Funeral Home.

It is the third year that the pair of doves has made their home in the same spot, but this is the first year they have reared more than one set of young.

Each time, starting early last spring, the doves have hatched two young birds and reared them. The present pair is just about ready to leave the nest.

It is decidedly uncommon for doves to rear more than one pair of young in the same location in a year.

Here we are in October and confronted with the last rose of summer.

It was light pink in color and beautifully formed—a Van Fleet type.

Its sweet fragrance was good to smell, an aroma as refreshing to the nostrils as the warm sun to the skin on damp days.

The rose came from Mrs. Frank Shaw, of 326 South North Street. She sent it in to the Record-Herald, so that we all could see for ourselves that summer, as measured by roses, is not yet over.

IT TAKES A LOT OF PIE to feed almost 200 people and these ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary know how to bake 'em and serve 'em. The auxiliary baked 46 pies (276 pieces) for those who ate dinner at the Community Chest kick-off dinner. Mrs. Ray West (right) had charge of the pie department while Mrs. Mike Helfrich, Jr. (left) as president of the auxiliary provided over-all supervision of the dinner. More than 20 members of the auxiliary prepared and served the meal, which had everybody talking Monday night. (Record-Herald Photo)

Car Output Menaced By Steel-Coal Strike

By DAVID J. WILKIE

DETROIT, Oct. 18—(P)—The nation's auto industry is operating on borrowed time as far as its steel supplies are concerned. Shutdowns of three weeks and more starting early next month are not unlikely.

This was the word from an authoritative source inside the industry today.

The car and truck makers had a four to six weeks inventory of steel when the steel strike began. But they have been eating deeply into these stocks and replacements have been cut off.

A top industry executive, who asked that he not be identified, said today:

"An important thing that seems to be overlooked is that if we keep going and use up all the steel we have on hand it will take three or four weeks to store up enough more to permit resumption of car and truck output."

No one auto maker wants to admit his steel position is any worse than that of his competitors. But most car and truck companies, especially among the "Big Three" of General Motors, Chrysler and Ford, have been producing at record levels for many weeks. Most of the G-M and Chrysler division have been working.

The newly built 18,300-ton Albion was manned by a civilian crew and was in tow to drydock for completion. The collision rammed a hole in the carrier and she was reported taking water.

The Albion had aboard three survivors from the freighter. The 2,025-ton Maystone was carrying coal to London. A spokesman for the owners of the Maystone, said life boat crews still at sea had some hopes of picking up other survivors.

Kroger Sales Down From Last Year

CINCINNATI, Oct. 18—(P)—Sales of the Kroger Company for the four-week period ended Oct. 8, totaled $59,114,751, a decrease of one percent from those of the same time a year ago, company officials reported today.

Cumulative sales for 40 weeks of 1949 amounted to $616,956,013, a gain of $2,099,526 over the corresponding period of 1948, it was stated.

The average number of stores in operation was 2,238, against 2,410 for the same time a year ago, according to the report.

New Yorker and Child Bride Honeymoon with Bad Checks

ZANESVILLE, Oct. 18—(P)—A 28-year-old man and his 16-year-old bride of six weeks are believed by Zanesville police to have financed at least part of their honeymoon with worthless checks.

They were arrested here last night by Detective James McCoid after a drug store became suspicious of a check presented in payment for an electric heating pad.

The husband said he was from New York City and the girl said her home was in Lodi, Calif.

Police searched their convertible car and said they found it loaded with "dozens" of electric heating pads, numerous cans of baby powder and other items ranging from a large panda doll to electric irons.

Det. McCoid said the pair purchased a $17 camera at another drug store in Zanesville. He said they also bought a bottle of domestic champagne in a wine store.

Faint Hope Held For Farm Bill

Compromise Fails At Conferences

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—(P)—Hope for a new farm bill still flickered today in Congress despite a Senate walkout on compromise negotiations with the House.

With adjournment coming, efforts to reach an agreement collapsed last night. House members held to their demands for a continuation of high government price props for major crops; Senate conferees insisted on a flexible support program geared to supplies.

After hours of haggling, Senate members of a Senate-House conference committee voted 5 to 2 to quit the negotiations and report back to the Senate that they were unable to come to terms with the House.

The House members of the group, however, refused to vote a disagreement, Rep. Pace (D-Ga.) told reporters he was hopeful the negotiators would change their minds and agree to further conferences in an effort to settle the dispute.

Procedure Doubtful

Senate Democratic Leader Lucas, of Illinois, didn't foreclose such a possibility. He said he just didn't know whether the conferees would meet again.

But Chairman Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) of the Senate agriculture committee said he felt attempts to reconcile the dispute now would be put off until January.

Red Trial Juror Gets Another Call

NEW YORK, Oct. 18—(P)—For seven and one-half wearying months, Author Russel Janney sat on the jury in the Communist conspiracy trial.

Last Friday the trial ended. Janney went home, and found waiting for him—a summons to serve on another jury.

"Enough," said Janney, "is enough."

He called his lawyer who said Janney, author of "The Miracle of The Bells," probably could get excused.

There they obtained three check blanks from a merchant, bearing the name of a Cambridge market.

McCoid said one check passed to Zanesville was for $47, another for $46, and a third for $43.

He said the man admitted passing three checks in Zanesville and quoted the wife as saying that she thought her husband was a salesman.

No charges have been filed.

Secrets from Behind Iron Curtain!

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—(P)—The United States apparently is still able to get a lot of information from behind the Iron Curtain despite Communist efforts to plug leaks.

Disclosure of a series of official reports indicated this today.

For example, the state department announced yesterday it had reports "confirming" the Soviet mass deportation of thousands of

Governor Calls for Economy

COLUMBUS, Oct. 18—(P)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche told department heads yesterday they must "economize in every respect" because of shrinking state revenues.

Declaring that the "hey-day" of increasing state revenues is past, Lausche said the curve of incoming revenues was taking a "downward turn." He urged his cabinet officers to operate within the money available to their departments.

The governor said new obligations of the state created in 1947, were only making their full impact felt now. He listed these as $1,000,000 a month for the soldiers' bonus, about $2,000,000 in increased allowance to schools, and contributions to police and firemen's pension funds.

Lausche said there was no way of telling what the situation might be a year or two from now. He refused to comment on a news release of the Ohio chamber of commerce which said the state would have a deficit of at least $21,000,000 and possibly $45,000,000 by June 30, 1951, unless spending were drastically reduced.

The governor said he was studying the chamber's statement. He also said he was studying a report by State Finance Director Herbert

D. Defenbacher that showed tax revenues declined $8,392,124 in the three months ended September 30.

Defenbacher said there was "nothing alarming" in the state's financial picture despite a shrinkage of $1,800,000 under the estimate of sales tax revenues for the first quarter of the new fiscal year.

The finance director said total revenues are $2,000,000 over the estimate for the first quarter although $8,892,124 under the same period last year.

Expenditures for July, August and September, he said, totaled $79,110,347, compared to $67,785,111 last year.

'Dad of Dads' For OSU Is Father Of Five Students

COLUMBUS, Oct. 18—(P)—The father of five students now in Ohio State University will be the school's "Dad of Dads" at the Ohio State-Northwestern game here Oct. 29.

He is Ernest G. Graham of Zanesville and father of the largest family group ever enrolled in the university at one time.

Graham is an attorney. He was picked by a committee from parents of more than 22,000 students for the honor. Graham and fathers of Ohio State football players will be introduced at half-time ceremonies during the game.

On Dad's Day, Graham and his family will be escorted to the university from Zanesville by the state highway patrol. They will be honored at a luncheon at Pomereene Hall and occupy a special box in the stadium during the game.

Some unofficial reports have said the explosion took place in the area now declared to be the scene of the mass deportation.

The state department's information almost certainly came by official channels from its envoys.

Collecting and forwarding all reports that appear to warrant scrutiny is one of the major duties of all diplomats.

Winter Comes In West with Heavy Snows

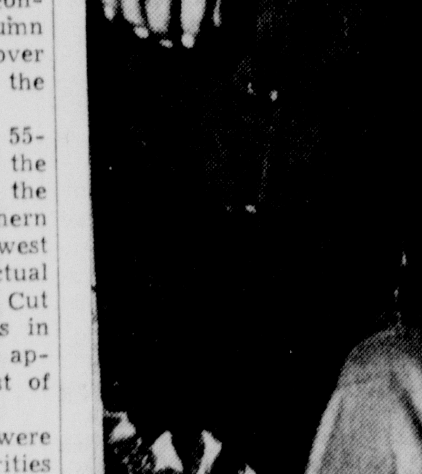

(By the Associated Press)

A swirling white preview of winter banked five-foot snow drifts in Montana today and dipped temperatures in the Rocky Mountains area as low as 12 degrees.

The windy snowfall was in contrast to the pleasant autumn weather which prevailed over most of the eastern half of the country.

North winds, recorded at 55-mile speed in top gusts, piled the snow which fell mainly on the eastern slopes of the northern Rockies and in the northwest plains area adjacent. The actual fall ranged from six inches at Cut Bank, Mont., and five inches in Yellowstone National Park to approximately one inch in most of the area.

No emergency conditions were caused by the storm, authorities said. The early morning minimum (Continued on Page Two)

Navy Charges Refuted By Air Force Chief

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—(P)—Air Secretary Symington hit navy criticism of the air force today as "fals," tales, and said it would be a good idea to increase the air force now that Russia has the A-bomb.

Symington was before the House armed services committee defending the flying service against the barrage of charges the navy has hurled in 10 days of hearings.

First off, he rapped the admirals for ever bringing the inter-service row over military policies into the open. He said it has resulted in "letting possible enemies know how this country would be defended."

The dead were identified as pilot Daniel Lacey, 26, of Westwood, Mrs. Harold Keppel, about 30 wife of a New York Times photo-engraver and Mrs. Edward S. Davis, about 46, of Provincetown.

Mrs. Keppel's two children, Paul, 2-1-2, and Bruce, about one year, were listed as missing.

The bodies were recovered by the coast guard cutter Achueset about four miles off Race Point. The coast guard resumed searching for the babies early today—but located them; would be found alive

Group Sets Up Campaign Plan

Self-Supporting In Three Years Probable

A one mill levy for the Fayette County Memorial Hospital, for a period of three years, is necessary to create an emergency fund to meet the problem of operation costs and such items of additional equipment as are found to be necessary.

This three year period will be the time necessary to thoroughly establish the new institution in the community, win complete public confidence and prove to the public here that the hospital will be able to give service as satisfactory as prospective patients can receive anywhere.

This was the consensus of opinion and the decision approved by nine-tenth of a group composed of about 20 county officials, hospital board members, doctors, dentists, representatives of the health department and other friends of the hospital at a meeting Monday evening.

As a result an organized effort to campaign for the success of this levy was agreed upon and started.

The meeting was called to order in the second floor conference room of the Record-Herald building, by President Sam Parrett of the board of Fayette County Memorial Hospital trustees. This board will have complete charge of the operation of the new hospital when it opens. The date of opening is expected to be sometime during the early months of next year.

State Is Criticized At WCTU Meeting

YOUNGSTOWN, Oct. 18—(P)—Miss Mary B. Ervin, retiring president of the Ohio Women's Christian Temperance Union, said today that "Ohio is now in the liquor promotion business" and that "you and I are partners in the business whether we like it or not."

Addressing the opening session of the 7th annual convention of the Ohio WCTU, Miss Ervin reviewed the accomplishments of the organization since its inception and during the 10 years of her leadership.

She singled out the state liquor department's exhibit at the recent Ohio State Fair for special criticism.

"Good citizens were incensed," Miss Ervin said, "over the fact that for the first time in the history of the Ohio State Fair a prominent section was allotted to the state liquor department to popularize the liquor business."

Five Lives Lost In Plane's Plunge

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Oct. 18—(P)—A small chartered plane plunged into the sea off this town on the tip of Cape Cod yesterday taking the lives of three adults and possibly two babies.

The dead were identified as pilot Daniel Lacey, 26, of Westwood, Mrs. Harold Keppel, about 30 wife of a New York Times photo-engraver and Mrs. Edward S. Davis, about 46, of Provincetown.

Mrs. Keppel's two children, Paul, 2-1-2, and Bruce, about one year, were listed as missing.

Man Struck and Killed By Hit-Skip Driver

YOUNGSTOWN, Oct. 18—(P)—Horace Stomps, 60, carrying a basket of groceries, was struck and killed by a hit skip motorist this morning. A second motorist, Michael J. Good Hope PTA Plans Carnival

Reports Are Made At Regular Meeting

Plans for a Halloween carnival today were underway within the ranks of Good Hope PTA.

Committee heads were named and the outline of the program of entertainment was discussed following the Monday night meeting of the group.

Mrs. Emerald Sollars, the vice president, presided over the business session. Mrs. Thelma Linton gave the treasurer's report and Mrs. Elva Overly, the secretary, reviewed the annual "school night" by telling what went on last Monday night when the parents took the places of the pupils in the class rooms.

The PTA membership drive was brought to a close with Mrs. Fred Pierson's third and fourth grade room taking the honors. A prize is to be given for signing up the most members. Figures are not yet complete on the total membership list.

The PTA voted Supt. Harold Thomas authority to purchase the reference books needed—up to the customary yearly $50 limit.

Supt. Thomas and Karl J. Kay, one of the teachers there now, were instructed to determine the cost of materials for making tables for the first graders. The boys of the industrial arts class would do the work.

For the entertainment program following the business session, Mrs. Jack Day provided the opening number, an accordion solo. The rest of the program was given by the pupils:

Vocal duet by Virginia Mann and Loretta Hatfield;

Piano solos by George Garringer and Suzanne Kellenberger; Song-dance by Jackie Lee Hoppes.

W. J. Hilly, the superintendent of the county schools, addressed the gathering on school taxes. Much of his discussion concerned the levy proposed for the Wayne district.

The Halloween carnival, which is to be held in Wayne Hall the evening of Oct. 27, is to follow the accepted pattern of spooks and fun. There will be just about everything from games to the accepted menu of autumn refreshments.

Committee heads appointed were:

Fish pond, Mrs. Fred Pierson; popcorn, Mrs. Joseph Shoemaker; cider and doughnuts, Mrs. Tom Braden; pie and cake, Mrs. Ray Geesling and Mrs. Jack Hoppes; candy, Mrs. Ruby Fountain; soup and sandwiches, Mrs. Everett Rife and Mrs. Wilburn Bourne; square dance, Frank Grubbs and Virgil Garringer and publicity, Mrs. Thelma Linton.

Committees also were appointed for the group's next meeting, Nov. 28. They are: food, Mr. and Mrs. John Rowland, Miss Minta Rowland, Miss Clara Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rowe, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Britton, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Garrison; program, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bar and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hor.

Navy Charges Denied

The force is over-emphasizing the A-bomb carrying B-36 long-range bomber and neglecting other types of air craft.

3. He is not opposed to airplane carriers and believes the navy and marine corps should have their own air arms.

4. The navy, to his knowledge, has been carrying on organized attacks since January, 1947, against the B-36. He said that even now a second anonymous document is in circulation that attempts to rip apart strategic bombing. He said it is "far more dangerous than the first" and hinted that he believes the navy is circulating it.

In long hearings, the navy has complained that present policy puts too much stress on the air force B-36 big bomber and cuts down on the navy.

Admiral after admiral has taken the stand to belittle the possibilities of the bomber. Their general contention has been that the big plane could not get through an enemy's defenses and would accomplish little if it did.

Symington said the B-36 still is "the best long-range bomber known."

Hospital Levy

produced by the one mill levy, estimated at between $35,000 to approximately $40,000, will be set aside in its entirety for hospital purposes. It will be held by the county solely for taking care of any emergency which the new institution may face. There is no other county money available to aid in hospital operation.

Miss Christine Evans, consultant to the hospital board in charge of construction and equipment, whose members also were present, presented estimates of expenses and incoming revenue for service to patients. She will become the hospital's administrator when it opens.

Reasons For Levy Need

She asserted that she was reasonably positive that at the end of three years, this hospital would be either self-supporting, or so near that situation that any levy needed, beyond that time, would be so small that the public readily would favor it.

"I neither approve, nor am I in the habit of operating a hospital with an annual deficit," she stated, in the course of her remarks to the assembled group. "I think a hospital once fully established should pay its way."

She pointed out however certain pertinent points with reference to the opening of a new hospital. The first three years of a new institution's life, she stated, represented the crucial period of its existence. During that time it was necessary to maintain a full staff and adequate equipment and supplies, to guarantee efficient service rendered with careful economy. It is during that time, she asserted, that a good modern hospital, such as the one being finished here, must prove to the public that it can give the very best of service which the community requires. Public confidence in the institution must be firmly established.

Any new institution which opens, she further remarked, finds there are many things needed which, even the best of advance planning, has not been able to foresee and provide. "It is to carry us over that period of complete and proper adjustment that we will need sufficient funds, possibly some beyond the strictly operational costs. Once we are thus established, the future of a well managed institution is assured."

The one mill levy was decided upon some weeks ago at a conference between the new hospital trustees, Sam Parrett, George Campbell, Willard Bitzer and Herbert Hoppes, the county commissioners, County Auditor Ulric Acton and County Prosecutor Clark Wickensimer.

How Levy Will Appear

One of the handicaps which the proposed new levy faces was pointed out as being the fact that it is necessary to present it on the questions and issues ballot, at the coming election, November 8, as a proposed tax levy for providing additional funds for current expenses. It carries no reference to the hospital. It will require a 65 percent vote of the total vote cast, for its passage.

Prosecutor Wickensimer pointed out that this was based upon a ruling of Ohio's attorney general, since through some oversight in the law there was no provision to specifically mention a county or municipal hospital in a special levy. The assurance, however, from the county commissioners that any money derived from this levy will be held strictly for hospital purposes, means, Wickensimer said, that the money will be so used.

Before the meeting closed committees were named to contact representatives of various organizations of the city and county so that a full explanation of the need

Since the steel strike began more than two weeks ago, their stockpiles have been dwindling rapidly.

SHOWDOWN NEAR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—(AP)—Government labor officials decided today on a big, final fling at trying for voluntary settlements in the steel and coal strikes.

It was strongly indicated that if Cyrus S. Ching, the federal mediation service chief, fails in the various moves he has planned for this week, he will turn the two big strike problems over to President Truman as hopeless.

Then it will be up to Mr. Truman to decide if and when he wants to employ the emergency powers of the Taft-Hartley labor law, including strike-stopping court injunctions, or industry seizure under the selective service law.

of 12 degrees above zero was reported at Cut Bank. The mercury was under the freezing mark at most Montana points. The strength of the winds varied, mostly in a range from 15 to 45 miles an hour, but lessening of speed was predicted today by the weather bureau.

Effects Far-reaching

Rain fell in the fringes of the snow area—in northwestern Utah and southern Wyoming.

A heavy pall of fog and smoke developed early today over the Chicago area, causing a number of accidents on streets and highways.

Ten airliners carrying some 200 passengers winged in circles over the city at dawn, waiting for sunrise and a breeze to clear runways of the airports. Most of the ships were kept in the air from an hour uary when Congress will meet for another session.

Under the bill passed by the Senate after a stormy debate, price supports for major crops would range from 75 to 90 percent of parity. Parity is a computed price intended to assure farmers a fair return on their crops.

The bill passed by the House would continue for another year the 90 percent supports first voted during the war to spur crop production.

If no new farm bill is approved before Congress adjourns, the Aiken law passed by Congress last year will go into effect next Jan. 1. It provides for a sliding scale of price supports ranging from 60 to 90 percent of parity.

The Nation Today

BY SIGRID ARNE

(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—(P)—Just how thick is the crust of our comparative prosperity right now? Is there a depression right below the surface?

The National Planning Association (NPA) says the crust is pretty thick compared to 1929 and that any depression need be no more than a temporary lull.

NPA is a non-profit, non-political agency here that makes studies of national problems through committees of business men and labor and farm leaders.

It has just done a study that compares 1929 and 1949 business soundness of the country.

Here are the high spots:

In 1929 private debt ($161.9 billion) was nearly twice what the nation was earning that year. National income then was $87.4 billion. Now private debt is $172.2 billion, only 85 percent of the $225 billion we are earning this year.

In 1929 speculation was running riot, and brokers had loans out that totalled $6.5 billion. Now brokers' loans are less than half a billion.

In 1929 bank loans were $43 billion, half as much as what we earned that year, and those loans represented 79 percent of the money in circulation. Now bank loans are $47 billion only a fifth of what we are earning this year and only 28 percent of the money in circulation.

In 1929 there were 659 bank failures, and many more followed between 1930 and 1933. Only five banks have closed in the past five years, and bank depositors are insured by the government for any losses up to $5,000.

In 1929 the money we had saved, cash and bank deposits, totalled $55 billion, and there were no government savings bonds. Now you and I are holding down bank deposits of $165 billion and hold government savings bonds worth $48 billion.

In other words, NPA says, if business fell off now and great numbers of people suddenly lost their jobs there should be less actual distress and hunger than in 1929 and 1930.

Even if banks and brokers felt they had to call in their loans, and people had to pay up fewer people would be strapped and there would be more money on hand to keep business running.

More people would still have savings to pay the rent and the grocery bill.

But NPA thinks government and financial men have learned since 1929 that it is perhaps better to increase the public's buying power when a depressor threatens, than it is to let prices drop in the hunt for new buyers.

Government has one weapon to do this, NPA reminds. It lies in the federal reserve system, which is a little academic for the ordinary Joe but which can affect his well-being quite quickly. In the face of a continuing slump in business it can reduce their reserves. Immediately, the banks can use the released money to extend loans and credit and again new money flows out into business channels.

NPA thinks it would be unnecessary to let a business slump blow into another full-scale 1929.

Minnows do not grow to be large fish; they are distinct species themselves.

Polio Fight Fund Gets $11.20 Because People Are Forgetful

The March of Dimes fund here is $11.20 richer today just because people are forgetful.

When one of the Frozen Food Lockers on Rose Avenue is rented, the renter is given two keys. That has been the policy ever since they were installed.

But, strange as it may seem, there always have been those who would turn up at the plant without a key, wanting to get meat or vegetables out of their lockers for the coming meal.

The management was not exactly surprised; it had prepared for just such emergencies. So, the master key was brought out and the locker opened.

Not that the management minded the interruptions of the daily routine, but Dustin Gorton, the headman, decided about three months ago that something should be done about it.

He explained that he didn't want to give the impression that service at the plant was given grudgingly, for he emphasized that this was considered all a part of running a frozen food locker business.

However, he saw a chance not only to teach the absent-minded patrons a memory lesson but also a chance to pick up some spare change for the fund to fight infantile paralysis.

It was, he said, a gesture in support of the March of Dimes. So, notice was posted that everyone who forgot the locker key and had to call for the master key would be expected to drop a dime in the March of Dimes receptacle at the desk.

Some were caught by surprise; but none complained as they dropped their dimes through the slot with embarrassed laughs.

Gorton said he was not sure just when the dime "penalty" for forgetfulness started, but when he took the can to Paul Van Voorhis, the March of Dimes chairman for the county, there was $11.20 in it.

We Must Change Our Ways Or Face Trouble

Our nation cannot answer European competition in the near future, with its devaluation of currency, by maintaining the type of industrial program which has precipitated the present crippling strikes here.

The continuous appeal and strikes for higher wages, less work and shorter hours, which is bound to mean higher prices, is dangerous to our future. By continuing along this line we make ourselves vulnerable to foreign competition against our industries which can be just as effective in disaster for them as would be hitting them with atomic bombs.

European industry is at present almost completely absorbed with its task of supplying the seller's market which still exists in those countries. That Europe will aggressively be seeking other markets some day can hardly be questioned. When that happens we will then be in for some tough competition.

To meet this competition we have three alternatives. Either we must raise tariff barriers, reduce wage levels here until the differential largely disappears, or maintain present wage levels and increase the productivity per man hour in our industries.

The last of these three is of course the most logical and will result in maximum happiness for all concerned. It is also the answer which is the soundest economically.

The most important thing in determining prices which the ultimate consumer must pay is not the wage rate per hour. The most important thing is the number of pieces produced in an hour for which wages are paid. The more that is produced the lower is the cost per piece. Lower costs mean lower prices.

Identifying Your Car

If you want to recover your car if it should be stolen, leave a secret mark in it. One city automobile club, giving this advice, suggests such simple devices as slipping a business card behind the rear seat or upholstery, where it is not apt to be looked for. A colored string about some little seen bit of wiring is another means of identification. Or if these seem too easily removable, it is always possible to scratch initials on the engine block or under side of the car, or some other such place.

There is no very good reason why a car should be stolen. If an owner is careful about locking the doors and ignition and taking away the keys, he should be reasonably safe. But to provide against theft he should be sure of some way of making positive identification, even though serial numbers be changed.

In listing things which might well be given back to the Indians, no one ever mentions Indian Summer.

It's Fun To Be A Stand-in Daddy

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK—(AP)—Being a godfather is harder—in some ways—than being a father.

Fatherhood just comes naturally. It is official. And it takes place in a church, where the Lord can overhear any pledges you make to fend for a child that isn't your own. Yes, being a godfather is a much more responsible and selective act than merely being a father.

Fathers just happen. Godfathers create themselves deliberately.

If all this sounds a bit smug, it is because I am pitching a penny for the proud but neglected status of godfatherhood, into which I entered recently.

Some two years ago Frances and I moved into a tremendous housing project on the east side of Manhattan holding some 35,000 people. The life insurance company that built it ruled out dogs but announced it welcomed children.

The idea probably was that dogs rarely grow up and buy life insurance policies but children sometimes do. Anyway the tenants joyously took the company at its word. Within a year the place was nicknamed "The Hatchery," and a man going to work had to beat his way past a solid wall of diaper service salesmen. Now there are more babies around than television sets.

A young neighbor couple had a daughter, Nina. We fell in love with her and they said we could be her godparents. Months went by and nothing happened.

"People are always saying we can be godparents to their kids," I complained to Frances. "But nothing ever comes of it. What am I supposed to do—nothing? I feel as useless as a Kentucky colonel in Vermont."

Well, word got back to Nina's mother. The next Sunday she frocked the child in something pink, and off we went to the church. It was a christening ceremony.

And it was then at last I was sworn in as a real 24-karat godfather. It is an odd feeling. For the first time I understood why women weep at a wedding.

I felt that way as Nina, laughing, kept jumping up and down while the immortal words were read over her headless head. But she quieted down and listened gravely as the minister lifted her, doused her blonde locks with water—and welcomed her to Jesus.

Afterward the minister assured me that a godfather held no honorary title, but had real duties and shouldn't enter into his condition lightly or thoughtlessly—as fathers have been known to do.

A week or two later he dropped by to see how I was fulfilling my role. Luckily, he caught me at home reading a good book. I told him that now we called Nina the "Little Christian," and he looked pleased.

Now I fret about my goddaughter all the time. They say there is nothing like children to keep one young. I find there is nothing like a godchild to make a man older—from worrying at all life's perils around her.

But it's fun to be a vice-president father, a "stand-in daddy." The hardest thing, however, is to keep from wishing that Nina's papa will break his leg—so that I can do more for her.

Just What Are We To Teach?

By George E. Sokolsky

Arthur Garfield Hays, the lawyer, makes a point which needs interpretation. He asks: "... What is the truth? What is heresy? Who is to judge? Are men to be judged not by what they teach but by their political views and associations? What is a Communist? A member of the party or only an admitted member of the party? Or is the test a belief in Communism? Where does a fellow traveler stand? Or a liberal? Or a New Dealer?

"The implications and consequences which follow from judging men not by their acts but by their views are far more dangerous to democracy and freedom than the Communists themselves."

Hays' difficulty is, of course, that he is uncertain about what he calls "the truth." Having no fixed standards, living intellectually in a grey, uncertain world, as do many these days, he can favor that which he opposes. For Arthur Garfield Hays is no Communist or even a Marxist: he is what may be called a Liberal which means that his own mind has never been made up finally. It is a happy state for with those who practice a passionless objectivity and who really avoid responsibility. In my judgment, the Communists or even the Ku Klux Klan are preferable for one can know where they stand and act accordingly.

Hays objects to our eliminating Communists as teachers of our children in the public schools on the ground that freedom is more important than the souls of the young. He does not say it that way. He rather argues: "This drive is not only against teachers who are party members. The Feinberg law in New York state makes loyalty the test. A teacher's loyalty is judged not by the courts but by boards before which the attorney general's blacklist (promulgated without hearings) is good evidence. I have always thought that fascism was a system which was run by the executive without regard to the legislative and judicial. Here we have the executive stamping citizens as suspects. Discrimination by the government among American citizens, who have violated no law, is not my idea of Democracy! Of course, this isn't fascism, but it is fascist procedure."

All of which is beside the point. Parents have a moral right to decide on the character and competence of those who teach their children. The taxpayer has a legal right to protect the expenditure of public funds against abuse. The voter has a responsibility to select members of the legislature who will vote for measures which he, the citizen, assumes will best serve his interests, protect his rights, and provide for the general welfare.

No one can deprive the parent of the right to protect his child even against the power of the state. That is inherent in parenthood. When a parent insists that a child is being corrupted by a teacher, the parent should protest to the school authorities and exert every available means to defend his child. As Communism is, from the American standpoint, an immoral doctrine, the teaching of Communism in our public schools is an impairment of the minors and should be so regarded.

The questioned might be asked, how can a Communist teacher advocate Marxism or support Russian policy if he does not teach that subject? The error in the question is that Marxism is only a political or economic movement. Actually, it is a philosophy of life based upon man's relationship to the cosmos, assuming that man is a material creature, totally conditioned by his environment. Such a philosophic system, translated into the simplest terms, can be taught from the kindergarten up to courses for a Ph. D. and is so taught throughout our country.

The Russian phase of this problem, while philosophically secondary, is of vital importance to the continued existence of the United States. For what the Marxists do is to debunk the United States, to minimize its achievements and importance, to ridicule by word, gesture and innuendo its institutions. The child assumes that the teacher knows—and in that assumption is our danger. Those who are impelled to influence our children to hate our country have no place in our educational system—certainly not out of public funds.

Diet and Health Pain from Fracture May Delay Healing

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

FRACTURE of a bone can scarcely occur anywhere in the body without some damage to the surrounding tissues. This means swelling and inflammation of the overlying muscles and, often, a great deal of pain.

Where the pain is severe, it interferes with movement and, in the adult, this tendency to keep the painful part as quiet as possible may delay healing.

Local Anesthetic

This treatment consists of injecting what is known as procaine directly into a vein. Procaine has long been used as an effective local anesthetic. It would appear that with this treatment symptoms disappear, movement in the joints increases, swelling becomes less, and the circulation improves.

This treatment has been carried out in almost 450 patients without any harmful reactions. The preparation employed lessens pain and it seems to dilate the blood vessels and relax muscles.

It was used in 61 patients who had fractures or broken bones. The treatment relieved pain, decreased the swelling, and made possible earlier movement of the affected parts. In sprains, there was immediate relief of pain and swelling, and increased movements in the affected parts.

In cases of arthritis, pain also was lessened, movement increased

No Separation Reports Are Now Necessary

Changes Are Made In Unemployment Law Effective Tuesday

Fayette County employers, along with all Ohio employers, will no longer be required to automatically submit separation reports to the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation for every worker who is laid off or voluntarily quits his job, Ward C. Miller, manager of the local BUC office stated Monday. This ruling becomes effective Tuesday.

By virtue of an amendment which takes effect Tuesday, employers will be asked to furnish the BUC with a separation report only when a former worker has actually filed his application for benefits. Only a small group of subject employers will not be immediately affected by the amendment and will continue to report under a special system now in operation.

Heretofore, employers were required to issue a report for each worker who left his job immediately upon separation. The original copy of the report went directly to the Bureau and a carbon copy was given to the worker who then presented it to the local Employment Center when he filed his benefit claim.

Effective October 18, the BUC will request a separation report only when an unemployed worker files his application for determination of benefit rights. The report will assist the Bureau in determining such benefit rights. The new system eliminates the necessity of furnishing separation reports when the worker involved does not apply for benefits. The report is essential to the benefit rate determination because it contains such information as the reason the worker left the job; the date of separation and the wages earned during the last week of employment.

Employers will be required to return the completed separation report within three working days of the receipt of a request for such report from any of the bureau's local employment centers. A self-addressed return envelope will accompany each request for the employer's convenience.

League of Women Voters Are Entertained At Home Of Mrs. Webber C. French

The League of Women Voters of Fayette County convened at the spacious and hospitable home of Mrs. Webber French on Monday afternoon. The meeting was marked by a large attendance of members and interested visitors and by a highly spirited and prolonged discussion of controversial subjects—in a non-partisan manner.

Mrs. Jean S. Nisley, president of the league, presided at the meeting and presented the speaker Miss Edith Gardner, chairman of the United Nations department who, since 1945, has made a continuous study of the progress of the UN, from authentic sources. Miss Gardner said in part: "On September 20, 1949, at Flushing Meadows, New York, the United Nations began its fourth regular session, with its goal international cooperation. Brigadier General Carlos P. Romulo, of the Philippines was elected president.

"At that time our State Department declared that 'the U. S. can not have a fair weather foreign policy, formulated under favorable conditions, only to be abandoned or watered down when the going gets rough. We embarked upon a certain course of action, advertised to the world, and we can not back down before the job is finished.' Tryve Lie, the great statesman said 'the UN today is the great force which holds the world together, against all conflicting strains and stresses that are pulling it apart.'

"After the war the Atlantic Charter grew out of the realization that if great and small nations could fight as a team against a common enemy, they also could unite to fight man's greatest enemy—war. The Atlantic Pact, recently enacted, despite Russia's lack of cooperation has decreased the chances for war."

The discussion which followed Miss Gardner's complete and highly informational talk brought out the facts that the United Nations organization provides the machinery and facilities through which 58 member nations of the world can unite in carrying out UN objectives. The United Nations cannot advance much farther or faster than world public opinion. Governments, even the totalitarian governments, attach great importance to the force of world public opinion, and they want it on their own side if possible. An informed and aroused public opinion can be a great force for peace.

Miss Gardner had prepared a number of questions and answers which were distributed and promoted discussion of the UN.

Later interest centered in the coming election—November 8. The three statewide issues include the following: a law proposed by initiative petition to permit the manufacture and sale of colored margarine in Ohio; a proposed amendment to the Constitution of Ohio, so that each county may have more than one probate judge, as the General Assembly may declare by law. (This does not apply to Fayette County); a proposed amendment to the Constitution of Ohio to provide that all candidates for an office must be arranged in a group for that office—not by parties.

Locally there are to be elected two members of council, two members of the Board of Education, a justice of the peace and a constable. There is proposed a renewal of the 6 mill levy for the schools and a new one mill levy for support of the new hospital.

A voter must have been a resident of the state for one year, of the county and precinct 40 days. Absentee ballots are available.

Miss Mary Edge was welcomed as a new member, and the next meeting of the league will be at the home of Miss Dorothea Gaut.

Members of the Mothers' Circle were hostesses at one of their annual social events on Monday evening when they entertained with an old fashioned square dance at the Washington Country Club and included their husbands and invited guests.

The club lounge was gayly decorated with Halloween suggestions and lovely fall flowers and about fifty couples enjoyed dancing to the Bob Verbeck Orchestra, of Columbus.

Mr. Verbeck an experienced caller and instructor also provided an hour of special entertainment during the evening. The pleasant event which was most enjoyable was brought to a close with the serving of tempting refreshments, served by the hostess committee made up of Mrs. William Clift, chairman ably assisted by Mrs. William Lovell, Mrs. Fred Ensen, Mrs. John Williams, Mrs. Don Scholl and Mrs. M. Class Members Meet At Van Pelt Home

Mrs. Charles Van Pelt entertained the members of the King's Daughters Class of the First Christian Church on Monday evening at her attractive country home beautifully decorated with fall flowers and potted plants.

The president, Mrs. Fred Shoop, presided over the business session during which eleven members responded to roll call and the usual reports were heard and accepted. An announcement was made of International Church convention in Cincinnati, October 25 to 30, and the president urged all members to attend. The members also were reminded of "Homecoming Day," at the First Christian Church here. The class voted to send a Christmas gift to "World Friendship Among Children," which includes children of foreign countries.

The lesson study was conducted by Miss Naomi Butterfield and was preceded by prayer by Mrs. J. A. Van Gundy.

At the closing of the meeting, a social hour was enjoyed and the hostess seated the group at one long table for the serving of a delicious lunch. The table, with crystal and silver appointments, was centered with nasturtiums in a crystal bowl, flanked with tall tapers in crystal candelabra.

Work Slowed On New Pool Here

Concrete Pouring Is Temporarily Held Up

Work on the construction of a swimming pool in Washington Park has been temporarily slowed because certain plumbing equipment cannot be obtained immediately.

There are hopes that the necessary materials will be available on the site within a week so that workers for the Sever-Williams Company can complete the pouring of the side walls.

Workers for the construction firm have already erected all but a few sections of the forms for the concrete.

Footers for the sides of the pool were poured some time ago. A crew was engaged Monday in finishing up the excavation for the filtration plant.

A pump is employed constantly to pump water which seeps in to the excavation into a nearby pond. The Associated Plumbers will handle the plumbing job at the new pool.

Recently several residents of the community have been attracted to the pool site to see how work is progressing.

Workers had been hopeful of pouring the side walls of the pool before the arrival of bad winter weather.

Shrine To Present Show In Columbus

Members of the Washington C. H. Shrine Club and of the Aladdin Temple of the Shrine in Columbus today were arranging their affairs so they can take in what was described as "one of the best vaudeville shows to be presented in connection with its business meeting" next Friday evening in the Masonic Temple in Columbus.

C. R. Philhower, a past president of the Shrine Club here, said a sizable delegation of Shriners probably would attend the meeting and show from here. He added that transportation for those without cars would be provided on request.

The date for the meeting has been advanced one week because of the annual Halloween dance and masquerade ball and the visit of Imperial Potentate Harold Lloyd, one of the Shrine's most distinguished members, it was announced by Potentate Raymond J. Lewis.

The show will consist of five acts headed by Emil and Evelyn, a nationally popular teeterboard presentation. Others are "Dick" Drake, sad face comedian, who also will act as the master of ceremonies; the Junior Debs, six girl dancers; the Skating Barrys and the Harmonaires, a singing group. Plans for the show are being completed by Dorothy Boyles.

The show is to follow the regular business session.

THE ELEVENTH COMMANDMENT

(Dr. Walter C. Lowdermilk)

Thou shalt inherit the holy earth as a faithful steward, conserving its resources and productivity from generation to generation. Thou shalt safeguard thy fields from soil erosion, thy living waters from drying up, thy forests from desolation, and protect the hills from overgrazing herds, that thy descendants may have abundance forever.

If any shall fail in this stewardship of the land, thy fruitful fields shall become sterile, stony ground and wasting gullies, and thy descendants shall decrease and live in poverty or perish from off the face of the earth.

Six From Here Visit Famed Galilean Home

Six people from Washington C. H. saw a divinely-inspired man-constructed miracle over the week end.

Mrs. Ogan Riley, Mrs. Harry Elliott, Mrs. John Groff, Mrs. Ocie Huffman, Mrs. Robert Allemang and Mrs. Maude Huffman were in the group.

They had heard a lot about the famous Galilean Home, deep in the hills of Kentucky. They contributed what they could of the necessities of life to people they knew of only by reputation.

These six took a trip to Grove, Kentucky, about 270 miles from here, to find out for themselves just what the Galilean Home consisted of.

What they saw was the culmination of ten years of work and struggling by a young Methodist missionary and his wife.

One-Acre Start

Rev. Vogel, after graduating from Bible school a decade ago, bought an acre of land in the hills near Corbin.

From time to time, an orphan would be brought to the young couple. Their kindness and compassion for the unfortunate spread through the region and their family grew fast with the years.

The Vogels brought a child of their own to their new home, but they have become "Dad" and "Mom" to the many newcomers.

Though the group was barely surviving with so many mouths to feed, no one was turned away.

Last year, there were 30 youngsters being kept by the Vogels when supplies grew lower than usual. With practically no food left, Rev. Vogel started off on horseback to Corbin to try to alleviate a desperate situation.

On the way, one man gave him a side of meat. Others gave him a variety of foodstuffs in the course of his journey and, by the time he had reached Corbin he was overloaded and had to make two trips back to the Home.

Those at the Home had been living in that hand-to-mouth manner for a long time and, last year, their patience was rewarded.

Magazine Story

Fame of the Vogels' work with homeless children brought a newspaper editor on a visit. A story and colorful pictures of the Galilean Home community appeared in the Saturday Evening Post.

People responded with contributions from all over the United States and from foreign countries. Long-needed improvements were made and the Home grew to include 69 children.

A Chicago man, long interested in the home and an annual visitor, left the Home 600 adjoining acres in his will.

The community is now spread over three mountain ridges and a school house has just been completed.

The children range in age from six months to 18 years and there are six on the present waiting list who can't be taken in because of the lack of facilities.

The boys and girls are housed separately in dorms, sleeping on army cots. These buildings and others in their community were built with lumber from their own property.

The Galilean Home is now world-famous and the modest Vogels continue their hard work, assured now that all one needs is faith.

Texas produces more cotton than any other state in the union.

Boy Is Killed By Brother to 'End Suffering'

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18—(P)—Police today said that a 15-year-old boy killed his ten-year-old brother who lay groaning from an accidental bullet wound suffered only moments before — "to put him out of his misery."

Dead with two bullets in his head is Robert James Elliott, 10.

His brother, Richard Manning Elliott, 15, is booked on suspicion of murder.

Police Lt. Edward Ream gave this account:

The two brothers, alone in their home last night, watched a western movie on television. Afterwards, the older boy showed his brother an old-fashioned .32 caliber revolver he had bought from a school friend for $6 and had kept secretly in his room.

As he took the gun from a drawer, it went off.

"Robert fell down groaning," Richard said, adding:

"I couldn't stand to see him suffer like that. I backed up two or three steps.

"I shot him again in the head to put him out of his misery."

Thousands Plan Holy Year Trek

Pilgrimage To Rome Forming in Europe

By CESARE BRUSINI

ROME, OCT. 18—(P)—More than two months before the opening of Holy Year, nearly three quarters of a million pilgrims already have pledged to come to Rome.

In addition to the regular pilgrimages from all parts of Italy, including some 350,000 pilgrims, France has organized 107 different groups with a total of 122,500 pilgrims.

Austria already has enrolled 24,000 pilgrims; Belgium 21,400, Switzerland 14,500, Spain 9,000, Holland 7,700, Great Britain 5,782.

No figures are yet available for the United States and other American republics, which — as they have already announced — will participate in Holy Year with several hundreds of thousands of pilgrims.

One of the principal concerns of the central committee for Holy Year, is to ensure proper lodgings for the imposing number of visitors.

A spokesman for the Holy Year central committee said recently that transportation has never been so easy as now. There will be a sufficient number of ships to carry to Rome anyone who wants to come, he said.

More than 22,000 beds will be at the disposal of pilgrims. Calculating that each pilgrim will stay in Rome three days, more than two and one half million pilgrims could be cared for with beds already available.

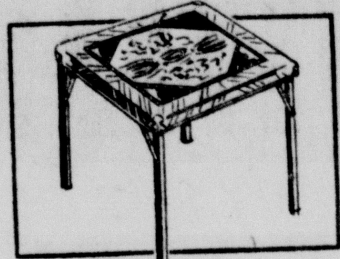

These 22,000 beds are in addition to Rome's normal tourist facilities in hotels and boarding houses.

Many, it is expected, will come to Rome for a shorter period, and will not require bedding arrangements. For these and for lower income pilgrims the Holy Year central committee will provide catering services.

Meals will be served at cheap rates by special popular restaurants near St. Peter's Basilica in new buildings now under construction.

To ensure that no salesmen of religious objects will disturb the pilgrims near St. Peter's, the Holy Year committee has ordered the pontifical gendarmes to chase all peddlers from the Basilica's famous square.

26 Ohio High School Teams Remain on Undeclared List

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Oct. 18—(AP)—It's unanimous — Massillon's mighty Tigers are Ohio's No. 1 high school football team.

For the first time in the history of the weekly Associated Press poll on the scholastic top ten, a team succeeded today in grabbing all the first place votes.

It was Massillon in a landslide, the 24 sports scribes taking part in the voting putting Chuck Mathers' mighty men in the No. 1 spot. The second placer, unbeaten-untied Canton McKinley, is waiting the chance in the season's final game to knock the Tigers off the peak—just as the Tigers did to the Bulldogs of Coach Herman (Bup) Rearick a year ago.

The clincher this week was Massillon's 48-14 conquest of Alliance, only team to whip the Tigers last year as Massillon roared to the state title. The Kings have now won 10 straight, five this year.

While Massillon was winning before a crowd of about 15,000, Canton McKinley stayed on the victory trail with a 7-0 win over Toledo Waite before 21,000. This week Mansfield's Tigers, winner of four straight and losing the opener in the final seconds, meet Massillon, while McKinley tangles with Steubenville.

Bits of this and that:
Toledo Waite's fans had a tough time getting home after the loss to Canton McKinley. A bus broke down in Massillon. The crowd waited for a new one from Akron. The new one got as far as Norwalk, then took a right-hand instead of a left-hand turn. It "back-tracked" 30 miles to Elyria. Two band members found maps and guided the driver to Toledo, where the bus arrived at 5 A. M.
Four "big ones" suffered their first losses last week end. They were Sandusky's Blue Streak, 47-7 to Fremont Ross; Lancaster's

Fraternal League Competition Keen

Competition was hot and heavy in the Fraternal League bowling at Bowland Monday night. Not a single match was won in straight games.

The high flying Country Clubbers and Lions, however, managed to come out on the long end of their matches by winning two out of three.

The Country Clubbers took the first two games of their match with the Mt. Sterling Boosters when three of them went over the 500 mark. Dr. Charles Pfersick was high with 574, but Bob Carman was not far behind with 561.

The Lions took the first and last games from the Record-Herald crew, but were nosed out by 14 pins in the total scores. Four of the Lions hit the pins for better than 500.

The Universals handed the Rotarians a two-out-of-three setback by winning the first two games of their match and the Elks took the first and last games of their match with the Sabina Moose. The scores were not so high but every game was a ding-dong scrap right to the end.

SYNOPSIS
Frances Phillips visits kindly old Judge Grimes in his home. She is the last of the Beck's line. Two years hence, under certain conditions, she will inherit this estate. On her way up to the judge's office in the elevator, Fran observes a very baffled young man, one obviously just out of uniform. Because she remains so much up with her ex-beau, well-born, charming though weak, Blake Sinclair, Judge Grimes had warned her against marrying him.

CHAPTER FOUR
MORRISON GROVE turned to answer the question of a woman in pale blue at his right. The man at Fran's left, who had detected the hideaway of the clams, was listening intently to his hostess, who, Fran had discovered at their first meeting years ago, was a nonstop conversationalist.

"I'll bet a man was involved in that change of environment." The repetition of Morrison Grove's words in her memory sent her thoughts backtracking to the day in Judge Grimes's office three weeks ago. Since then he had written that the change of the trustee for Rebecca Harding's estate had been allowed by the court. In closing he added:

"I've had four conferences with Jaffray re your affairs. Your brother showed good judgment in the selection of his successor. Glad to hear you like your job." He had not mentioned Myles Jaffray's reaction to her refusal to meet him. Apparently it hadn't made the slightest dent in the life of the new trustee. She had expected he would write to her and demand a hearing, had mentally composed a courteous but frigid reply. It had been good. It would be a pity if she never had a chance to use the literary masterpiece.

"Did you mutter 'damn,' or was that sound something the breeze brought in?" Morrison Grove inquired. "What goes? Your cheeks are flaming. I like your hair. Natural or permanent wave?" "The fairy who attended my entrance into this world endowed me with a permanent."

"Hooray for the fairy. The lady at my right is a political power—known as the Terrible Tassie—Miss Trent to you—originally an F.F.V.—she can influence a lot of votes in my direction—we both keep our legal residence in this country. I'm out for re-election to Congress. I had to listen to her much as I prefer to look at and talk to you."

"Of course you had to listen and just to keep the record straight, my cheeks are not flaming because of your neglect." "Maybe not, but you are disturbed about something, can't fool me." "I know. I your uncle Morrie. To proceed with my diagnosis, could it be that you have quarreled with the blond, screen-lover-good-looks lad directly across the table? His hair is as shining and smooth as the gold dome of your State House, his mustache resembles nothing so much as a third eyebrow. His gloomy gaze has been fixed on you in the intervals between turning his deadly charm on the gals each side of him."

There are one trillion feet of timber standing in the three west coast states—Washington, Oregon and California.

Old Span Across Paint Creek Now Being Replaced

Dayton Avenue Bridge Removed To Make Way For Structure

The old, rusty Dayton Avenue bridge, condemned by county and state inspectors, has been removed and work on the new structure is moving steadily forward.

A bridge construction crew out of Circleville, under the direction of Grover Hartmann, is engaged in making preparations for laying structural members for the new span.

A concrete base has been poured on the west side of the span and plans made to pour the base on the east side sometime Tuesday.

Heavy steel piers have been driven some 12 feet below the waterline of Paint Creek.

Octave Ammon, division engineer in Delaware, said "we're slightly ahead of schedule."

"From now on we can gain in time, if everything goes well," Ammon said.

Tresses Removed

Worst part of the job was removing heavy tresses. Sections of the tresses, which weighed almost eight tons each, had to be removed with a big crane.

Hartmann said the new structure would "carry anything." He said its load possibilities were almost unlimited. He said he wasn't sure but speculated that the piers had been driving to a point where they were resting on limestone.

Workers plan to grade the eastern approach to the bridge so that there is a slope from the railroad tracks to the creek.

The surface of the bridge will be covered with blacktop and the hump removed.

Meantime all traffic has been re-routed and streets leading to the bridge blocked off.

Scout-Parents To Hold Party Oct. 20

A chili supper and parcel post sale was sponsored by the Jeffersonville American Legion Auxiliary at its Legion Hall Saturday evening.

A Scout-parent party and covered dish supper will be held Thursday, October 20, at the Jeffersonville Legion Hall.

Joan Sears, delegate to Girls' State, will give a report at the Scout-parent party.

The various Scout organizations will all participate in the program.

All Brownie, Cub, Intermediate and Boy Scout members and their families are invited to the event. Members of the American Legion and the Auxiliary are also welcome.

Alleged Car Thief Is Held Under Bail

Billy VanSickle, 21, of near Williamsport, who was arrested by State Highway Patrolman M. E. Brinkles, in Pickaway County, Saturday night on a charge of auto theft, was held to the grand jury in Mayor Thurman I. Miller's court, Circleville under $1,000 bond, which he failed to furnish.

VanSickle admitted stealing the car. Donald Rittenhouse, 21, of Clarksburg, who was riding with VanSickle when the stolen car was wrecked on U. S. 22 east of New Holland, was questioned and released. He was absolved from all connection with the theft when VanSickle admitted stealing the car and picking Rittenhouse up along the road.

Several Arrested During 24 Hours

Police and state highway patrol cited a number of traffic violators over Monday.

Jennings M. Darbyshire, Sabina, was picked up by a state highway patrolman for speeding on U.S. 32. The officer said he clocked Darbyshire at 80 miles.

Bud Moore, city, was cited for passing a school bus on Route 70, north of Washington C. H. He was fined $15 and costs in police court.

Russell McIntyre, 58, city, was picked up by police at 6:45 P. M. for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

SPEAKING OF Furniture

By WENDELL BRIGGS

THE SEASONAL CHANGE

Even in warm climates, where winter never comes, or touches lightly now and then, women like to observe the seasons with a change of dress. Why not do the same with your furniture? It can make a lot of difference!

In summer, cool colors should dominate the room, and furniture should be spaced far enough apart to allow full circulation of air. But in fall and winter, warm, bright colors take over in furniture and draperies. Furniture should be rearranged into intimate, cozy and conversational groups to give that cherished "lived-in" look.

This seasonal change in color and harmony gives you twice as much wear from draperies and slip-covers.

If your room boasts a fireplace, you can add still further to the warmth and charm by grouping a few comfortable pieces of furniture around it.

The above illustration concerns itself with a room all dressed for winter. Yours can be equally charming when you couple these ideas with your individual touch and expression.

Let us help you to use your own ideas to the fullest. Drop in and talk over your problems with us. We're always glad to be of assistance to our many friends.
